Contents of Volume 14 1995

Spring 1995

Mithridates VI of Pontus, the first experimental toxicologist

The demise of postmarketing surveillance

The toxic oil syndrome: a continuing challenge

L-tryptophan: eosinophilia-myalgia syndrome

Approaching a century and after: morbidity and potentially drug induced disease

Around the journals

Spring book reviews

Summer 1995

Dr Thomas Young—Polymath

Long term neurotoxic effects of chemical warfare organophosphate compounds (Sarin)

Long term neurotoxic effects of organophosphate compounds

Adverse effects of potential agents for the treatment of Alzheimer's disease: a review

Investigations into the toxic effects of alcohol on skeltetal muscle

Around the journals

Summer book reviews

Autumn 1995

Infectious hazards associated with blood transfusion

Medication-related adverse reactions and the elderly: a literature review

Around the journals

Autumn book reviews

Winter 1995

Editorial survey on review articles

Famous names: John of Gaddesden and the Rosa Medicinae

Interactions with drugs used in the treatment of depressive illness

Nutrient–drug interactions

Around the journals